Who we are

KnowledgeAgent is a leading and internationally operating company in the field of Strategic Research & Analysis. As a team, we enable companies worldwide to make the right decisions for a sustainable future. We research, structure, and analyze information so that our clients can successfully operate in the market. Our customer base includes major international strategy consultancies and global enterprises from a wide range of industries.

To expand our team, we are looking for you to join us as

Research Analyst (m/w/d) at one of our locations in Mannheim or Bad Dürkheim with the possibility for up to 60% remote working.

Your tasks

- A wide variety of topics with daily new research requests about market development, company strategies or technology trends awaits you.
- You create analysis and research about topics of the future like sustainable mobility, artificial intelligence in the automotive industry and renewable energies.
- You base your results on a variety of sources such as professional databases, internet research, company publications and official statistics.
- You work in a structured and professional manner and visualize your results in a comprehensible and appealing way for our customers.

Your profile

- You are about to graduate with a degree in economics, engineering, information science or in a neighboring subject. We are also open towards other subjects - what matters is your enthusiasm for economical topics.
- You have a profound understanding of economic relations, a keen interest in current trends and sustainability topics and you enjoy familiarizing yourself with new subjects.
- You are characterized by commitment, a quick comprehension and high-quality standards.
- You communicate fluently and convincingly in written and spoken German and English

What we offer

We give you the opportunity to be part of the company's process developments, support you in your professional development, and encourage the creation of efficient teams within an open corporate culture. In addition to exciting challenges, a secure job and individual training opportunities, the following benefits await you:

- Hybrid working model (up to 60% remote)
- A great working environment in a cooperative and open feedback culture
- A familiar environment with after-work and team events
